

Lu YE
Soprano/actress
luye@luye.me

Internationally acclaimed soprano/actress Lu Ye has performed on some of the world's most important stages with rave reviews. She has been heralded as, "Una voce per Papa Francesco" by La Gazzetta dello Spettacolo. Ms. Ye was honored to be the first Asian, first Canadian, and the first Chinese artist in history to perform for Pope Francis' birthday and the annual Christmas concert in Rome, Italy.

"Voice like an angel," claimed La Presse, which has been the shared opinion of many since her early career. Lu Ye obtained a BA Degree in China at the age of 21 and continued studying vocal technique, interpretation, and performing art, along with music history, Italian art and Italian literature history.

A seasoned, well-rounded performer in all respects, Lu Ye continued her studies with prominent American drama coach Warren Robertson, who has worked with actors such as Jessica Lange and Viggo Mortensen and American drama coach Tom Todoroff. Internationally, Ms. Ye has worked with Italian drama coach, cinema director, and actor Giorgio Albertazzi. Vocally, she extended her work to Italian Chevalier Tenor Renato Sabatini, Spanish Mezzo-Soprano Carmen Gonzalez, and Canadian Baritone Yan Simons, among others.

As a principle actor, Lu Ye has appeared in the Hollywood feature film Wicker Park, Canadian feature film I'Esperance, television series "Un Tueur Si Proche", reality show series "The Property Shop" and the documentary Import-Export. She has also more recently been invited as a special guest to "The Actor's Studio" in New York. In China, Ms. Ye appeared as special guest soloist on the CCTV primetime variety show, "Zheng Da Zong Yi," and as an entertainment TV host on Zhejiang TV.

Lu Ye has successfully recorded 3 albums throughout Asia, with Shanghai LiLi regarding her as, "Une voix d'ange decidement, magique, on dirait ..." Ms. Ye was chosen as one of the top 100 pop singers in China and had the honor of being Master of Ceremonies in Zhejiang Province, China. She has also appeared as a special guest and performer on, BeijingTV, NanjingTV, and Wenzhou TV.

As one of the world's premier sopranos, Lu Ye has performed throughout Asia, Europe and North America. Her work as a soloist includes Il Cantori di Perugia, Italy. In Asia, Ms.Ye has performed for Hong Kong Wing Hang Record Lit, Beijing KangYi Record Company and ChangJiang River Record Lit as a recording artist. She has also graced the stage of the Shanghai Opera house as a soloist and also performed with the Shanghai Light Music Troupe as a leading soloist. In North America, she was featured with the Montreal Symphony Orchestra at Carnegie Hall, at the Lanaudiere International Festival, Quebec International Folk Music Festival, and Festival de Maestra.

Most recently, Ms. Ye has appeared on Italian national television RaiUno, RaiNew24, and Rai world Italia as an actor, presenter, and soprano. She has performed as a soloist at Premio Letterario Cimitile and at the Festival Magliano Ti Amo. Lu Ye was a presenter at the first edition Green Road Movie Festival and an international guest at Premio Braille as Madrina. Corriere di Sora, Italy, proclaimed, "Una voce calda, musicale e vibrant."

Lu Ye continues to impress audiences on stage and screen throughout the world. Her angelic tone and interpretation place her as a premier vocalist and actor in the most prestigious venues internationally. Across North America, Asia, and Europe audiences continue to be inspired by her warmth and virtuosity.